THE VOICE OF DEMOCRATIC NATIONALISM

Farrakhan Has Jews Jumping

In the summer of 1985 Minister Louis Farrakhan and his Nation of Islam received a $5 million interest-free loan from Libya's Muammar Qaddaffi. Farrakhan used part of the money to take his message to the people in a nationwide speaking tour, and the response from Blacks was tremendous. Farrakhan preaches Black nationalism and says that in order for Blacks to survive and develop as a people they must live in their own completely independent nation. He blames the Jews for the multiracial madness that threatens his race, and in every speech he attacks the "wickedness" and hypocrisy of the Jews to wildly enthusiastic response from the Black audience.

In line with their usual strategy, the Jewish media at first sought to kill Farrakhan's movement by ignoring it, but, as the Washington Post admitted in an editorial the day after he spoke in Washington, that strategy failed. The Post editorial said "There are people of good will who suggest that if the press just ignores this man and his messages, he will disappear. Yet without a single well-publicized advance word of Mr. Farrakhan's latest visit--just posters and the spoken word along the streets-- 10,000 show up to hear and cheer." The size of the throng scared the Jews so they changed

The Killing Of The Small Farmer

The American small farmer is on the ropes and there is no help in sight. The System is bent on the destruction of small farming as it favors agribusiness through its tax laws, farm bills, and water project bills. Senator Jesse Helms of North Carolina explained in a recent article that less than 20% of the $65 billion in benefits and subsidies in the latest farm bill before Congress will go to the small farmers in financial trouble. Eighty per cent will go to those who compete with the small distressed farm families, with the bulk of that 80% going to the large agribusiness corporations who are doing quite well and certainly need no relief.

Senator Helms did not explain in his article how such a thing can happen in the land of the free and the home of the brave, but it is fairly simple to explain. Politicians in a pluralistic system are for sale. It is not that difficult to get 15 - 20 large agribusinesses together to form an effective self-interest group, but it is very difficult to organize hundreds of thousands of small farmers into an effective competing lobby. Small farmers do not have the time, money or expertise for such political organizing and influence buying.

Another example of how the small farmer is being squeezed out by corporate farming aided by the federal government is to be found in federal irrigation projects. The Treasury has paid out more than

See FARMERS, pg. 3, col. 2

Big Banks Rake It In

Though small banks and savings and loans are collapsing at rates that this country has not seen since the Great Depression, the big banks are having another record year for profits. Already this year 100 banks have failed which is more than in any year since 1933. Worse, the number of insolvent Savings & Loans is now 459 (42% of the federally insured S&Ls) according to the Home Loan Bank Board, and it does not have the funds to close them all down.

The big banks on the other hand never had it so good. For example, J.P.Morgan's profits for the third quarter of 1985 were up by 74% over the third quarter for 1984, Chase Manhatten up 61%, Chemical Bank up

From The National Democratic Front's Program Of Democratic Nationalism

DEMOCRATIC NATIONALISM - THE THIRD WAY

The National Democratic Front is a revolutionary political movement which seeks to radically change both the social and political order in America. Our purpose is to unite the White people of America into a great nation with a powerful, efficient and dynamic social order based upon internal cooperation, honesty and amity. The political structure of the nation will be based on the principle of centralizing authority and decentralizing power such that national direction shall come from the leader of the country but his policies shall be implemented at the lowest level possible allowing for great initiative on the part of local decision-makers.

We reject the materialism of Communism and we reject the materialism of Capitalism. We see man not as an economic animal but as a spiritual being who wants and needs to live for something greater than himself. As nationalists we identify with our nation and are willing to sacrifice our well-being as individuals, and even our lives if necessary to help our people survive and achieve. It is this National Ethic that will destroy and replace the present barren and corrupt philosophy of Individualism and its Self-Interest Ethic.

Democracy is the sharing of power and Capitalism is its antithesis as it seeks to concentrate the economic power of the country into the hands of a tiny elite who use their vast wealth to control the political system. Communism achieves exactly the same result through a different process by which a tiny political elite also controls the economic wealth of the country. In both systems a small class of rulers dominate both the political and the economic life of the land, and in both the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. the ruling class uses its awesome power to preserve and advance its own interests without regard to the interests of the people as a whole. Our nation cannot be democratic and our citizens cannot be free without the sharing of economic power as money is power and power is freedom. Democratic Nationalism will not only share the wealth of this richest of all nations but will share control of the wealth and will thereby make our people free.

Once properly led and educated by leaders who are devoted to the nation, rather than to their own self-interest, the people will use their new power and freedom to make the nation great and to advance our knowledge and civilization. They will identify with the nation and will abandon the materialism and hedonism of Self-Interest. The young will have something to live for which will give them a sense of meaning and purpose in their lives. In a National Democratic Order they will be educated in schools which will be uniformly excellent around the country, hence all of our children will have an equal opportunity to develop their individual talents so that they might better serve their people. We will aggresssively seek out our best and most unconventional minds for positions of top-level leadership. Talent will be rewarded with responsibility and not with wealth or privilege. The order will be absolutely meritocratic and we will not allow the rise of a hereditary ruling clique or class.

"We see man not as an economic animal but as a spiritual being who wants and needs to live for something greater than himself."

Basic Inepitude

There are three basic items in the military uniform - helmet, fatigues, and boots. The Defense Department has managed to provide our troops with defective gear in each of these items. In 1980 the Army introduced new cotton-nylon fatigues and it took that organization until late 1984 to admit that the new fatigues were unbearably hot in warm climates (such as the U.S.). Earlier this year the Army cancelled a contract for new boots that tended to disintegrate.

The latest case of blatant mismanagement involves the 'German-style' helmet introduced in 1983. The Defense Department bought 3/4 million of these helmets at $85.20 a piece before it realized that the Kevlar headgear did not meet the contract specifications and were much weaker than the original design. Kevlar is a substance that is lighter yet stronger than most metals including steel. The contract called for four separate pieces of Kevlar melded into one unit, but three contractors decided to save on material to cut costs in half and the Army did not catch this bit of fraud for two years. Now it must try to weed out the defective Kevlar helmets from the good ones. Will the Army dump the defective contractors? Don't hold your breath.

Money Talks

It is said that the Democratic Party is dominated by the unions, civil rights groups, the banks, and those capitalists who contract with the welfare bureaucracy, and that the Republican Party is controlled by big business, conservative Christian groups, the banks, and defence contractors. But a study sponsored by the American Jewish Congress entitled "The Political Future of American Jews" reveals which self-interest group wields the most power in American pluralistic politics.

The study, which was released in March of 1985, found that Jews gave more than half of all the money collected by the Democratic Party and a quarter of all Republican funds. Jews constitute only 2.8% of the American population. This may seem like a huge investment in the political system for such a small people, but the return is well worth it. In fiscal year 1985 the federal government ran up a debt of over $200 billion, but yet was able to find $4.5 billion for aid to Israel, which amounts to approximately $1500 for every Jewish man woman and child in that country.

The Jews know that our political system is for sale and they are very good at buying. They are not so foolish as the Blacks or labor unions who contribute almost exclusively to the Democratic Party. They split their contributions much more effectively, and they coordinate their political giving through committees that gather intelligence on politicians and their views and actions on " Jewish questions". If a particular Senator or Congressman says something the Jews do not like he inevitably loses his next bid for reelection. For example, former Senator Charles

CRIME TOPS POLL

A Roper Poll released in November showed once again that crime is the leading concern of most Americans. Two thousand adults were sampled and were asked to state what they thought the government's top priority should be. Eighty per cent said that solving the drug and crime problem should be a top priority. Seventy-eight per cent listed limiting the use of nuclear weapons, and 77% listed reducing unemployment.

$3.5 billion in subsidies for irrigation systems in California's Central Valley. The bulk of the farm land in the valley is owned by large corporations. Central Valley farmers pay $6.15 per acre-foot of water whereas the cost is $72.99 per acre foot. Small farmers cannot possibly hope to compete in price with large farmers when the federal government showers the latter with such huge subsidies.

The farm population dropped from 25.3% (32.2 million) of the total national population in 1935 to 2.5% (5.8 million) in 1984. It was not that many years ago that our politicians and press told us that the reason that the Soviet Union could not compete with America agriculturally was because the U.S.S.R. would not allow farmers to own and work their own land. They told us that that a farm run by managers and worked by wage earners could not be as efficient as a farm worked by a man who owned it as the latter would work much harder and much smarter. Now agribusiness, our politicians and the press are telling us that the small farmer cannot produce food as efficiently as a large corporate farm which is run by managers and worked by wage earners. Were they lying then or now?

The Establishment lies so much that it cannot keep its lies straight, but the fact is, small farmers can compete effectively with agribusiness if they are properly organized and if the federal government would stop subsidizing corporate farming. These two conditions will not occur under the present plutocracy because the agribusiness lobby is so well organized and funded that many Congressmen depend on it for reelection. But these two conditions will occur when the National Democratic Front comes to power.

Agribusiness can offer better prices at present because it is disproportionately subsidized, because it markets in volume, and because its costs are lower as it purchases its supplies and equipment in volume and hence at a discount. Agribusiness has the capital to survive droughts and downturns in world prices. It also has marketing mechanisms to seek out lucrative deals on the world market. Small farmers delude themselves into thinking that they can counter these advantages with tax breaks (the traditional American formula).

The only way small farmers can survive is if they are organized into cooperatives large enough to enjoy the same economies of scale as the agribusiness corporations. And only the government could set up such a system of voluntary large-scale cooperatives. Such cooperatives would save the farmer from going into debt by renting him farm machinery on a rotating basis at cost. Thus each farmer would not have to take out huge loans to buy the necessary equipment. Further, the cooperatives would buy the machines in volume at a discount. The cooperatives would also organize their own marketing and distritheir strategy and went on the attack.

Jewish political leaders and money men began to twist the arms of Black politicians to denounce Farrakhan. This put the Black leaders in a very difficult position. They did not want to attack Farrakhan because they recognized how popular he was and did not want to look like Uncle Toms for the Jews. But they also recognized that their reelection depends on Jewish money and Jewish press and Jewish organization. So they squirmed on the horns of a dilemma. Mayor Marion Barry was the first to feel the Jewish pressure. He said only that Farrakhan's anti-Jewish remarks did not do the city any good. But of course that was not strong enough for the Jews so they turned up the heat in Los Angeles where Farrakhan was to speak next. They demanded in a closed meeting with Mayor Tom Bradley that he denounce Farrakhan's racism before he spoke there. Bradley said that he would wait to see what Farrakhan had to say in L.A. But his play for time did not do him any good because Farrakhan once again attacked the Jews speaking before 18,000 in the Los Angeles Forum. The next day Bradley caved in and attacked Farrakhan. Farrakhan's response was simple and devastating. He said that, "The Jews have an iron grip on the politicians." As J.F.C. Fuller said, "Truth is the most powerful propaganda."

Farrakhan concluded his speaking tour before a huge crowd of 24,000 in the heart of Jewish power - New York City. Everyone was searched before entering Madison Square Garden as Farrakhan, understandably, expects the Jews to try to kill him. He has received many death threats and the Jewish Defense League, demanding Farrakhan's death, demonstrated against him in NYC two days before his appearance. The Jewish Mayor of NYC, Edward Koch, called Farrakhan "a Nazi in clerical garb" and likened him to - who else- Adolph Hitler. The New York Jews were wild with anger at Farrakhan and pulled out all the stops in getting Black politicians to denounce him. But this only served to reinforce Farrakhan's point. The crowd in Madison Square Garden was extremely enthusiastic even though the searches delayed the speech for more than an hour.

The National Democratic Front supports Minister Farrakhan's message of separate nations for Black and White, and we wish his movement all the best.

Reagan's Rubbery Legs

On November 3, 1985 the Washington Post carried a front page story on a CIA plan to "undermine the Libyan regime headed by Col. Muammar Qaddaffi." The plan was authorized by President Reagan and approved by a narrow majority in the House and Senate intelligence committees. The Post's story was based on a top-secret 29 page CIA document that a government source gave to the newspaper.

Reagan ordered an investigation into who leaked classified intelligence documents to the Post and said that appropriate action would be taken against those responsible. But what about action against the Washington Post? Will Reagan prosecute officers of the newspaper for espionage and treason? Not in your life. Reagan is a tower of strength when it comes to forcing unarmed airliners to land, but his legs get rubbery when he thinks about taking on the treasonous press. Things will be a bit different under an National Democratic government.

As an aside the Washington Post mentioned in its article that plans against the Qaddaffi regime had been dropped a few years ago, but were just recently being reinstated. We wonder why. Could Qaddaffi's loan to Louis Farrakhan's Nation of Islam have anything to do with it?

Percy was once Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee but he made some unfortunate remarks about Palestinian rights. In 1984 the Jews withdrew their money from Percy and threw it behind his opponent. And just to make sure of his defeat a Jewish businessman from California threw in an extra $1 million to run anti-Percy television commercials. That is why Percy is no longer a Senator. Essentially, the same thing happened to Congressman Paul Findlay of Illinois.

If you think that other politicians do not take note of such events you are mistaken. They also take note of the enormous media power wielded by Jews. For example, Jews control and run the three main television networks (ABC,CBS and NBC), the three main weekly news magazines (Time, Newsweek and U.S. News & World Report), as well as many of the country's largest and most influential newspapers (including the Washington Post, New York Times, and the enormous Newhouse chain of newspapers). The Jews recognize the truth in George Orwell's comment that he who controls the press controls the past, and he who controls the past controls the present. But they do not control the future -- we do!

bution system to compete effectively with those of agribusiness.

The National Democratic Front will support the family farm not for economic reasons but for the psychological strength of the nation. Studies by rural sociologists in the 1930s found that "love of home and family life" characterized the farm family. Ninety per cent of farm wives listed as their primary concerns care and education of the children, a happy home life and owning the farm. Divorces were rare and children were many.

In spite of our modern spiritual degeneration farm families have stuck stubbornly to their values. Farm women now have 2.45 children whereas the rate in the cities is only 2.07, and White women nationally are below the maintenance rate of 2.00. Divorce rates for farm women are only 1/6 of those for city women. Ninety three per cent of farm children live in a two parent household whereas the rate in cities is only 73.7%.

Napoleon said that the family is the building block of the nation. He was the greatest Nationalist leader in Western history and his words are as true today as they were 180 years ago. The life-style of the small farmer with its emphasis on home and family and its committment to the soil of our nation is a model to be emulated and that is why the NDF will struggle to preserve and foster it.

Goetz "Victims" Thug On

On Dec. 22,1984 Bernhard Goetz shot four Black juveniles on a New York subway as they tried to shake him down. Goetz has been awaiting trial on attempted murder charges, but in the meantime his "victims" have not been idle. One of them, James Ramseur, was charged on the 5th of May,1985, with raping an 18 year old girl. Another, Barry Allen, was charged on Oct. 30th with stealing a gold chain. Troy Canting has pleaded guilty to a robbery that occured before the subway shooting. Only Darrell Cabey has managed to stay out of jail since the incident. He is still in the hospital with paralysis and brain damage.

Big Banks Launder Mafia Money

Since the beginning of its crackdown on Mafia money laundering earlier this year, the Treasury Department has forced six big banks to plead guilty to violations of the Bank Secrecy Act which require financial institutions to report cash transactions over $10,000 to the federal government. One of OrganizedCrime's biggest problems is how to process the huge amounts of cash it receives from its operations in a way that it cannot be traced to its source. According to the FBI this cash amounts to between $60 and $100 billion a year just from drug trafficking alone. Some of the money is laundered through "legitimate" businesses such as pizza parlors, but the IRS gets suspicious when a pizza shop grosses $100,000 a week. So the best solution is to deposit the money into private or business bank accounts where the criminal knows that the bank is not reporting cash transactions. The banks have been very sympathetic to the Mafia's problems. Officials of the first bank to plead guilty, the Bank of Boston, explained how branch managers "put the word out on the street" that they would not report cash in order to attract more business from criminals.

Since then Chase Manhatten, Manufacturers Hanover Trust, Irving Trust Co., Chemical Bank and Crocker Bank have all pleaded guilty under the Bank Secrecy Act and all have been forced to pay nominal fines. The largest fine was paid by Crocker - $2.25 million. This sounds like a lot of money unless you understand that Crocker received $4 billion of such cash between 1980 and 1984 and made close to $100 million from lending it out. Sixty banks have "voluntarily" admitted reporting violations since the Treasury campaign began and some of these are among the more than 100 presently being investigated by the IRS.

To date not one bank officer has been sentenced to jail for these crimes. No doubt because they are all "pillars of the community". With pillars such as these it will not be long before the people lose faith in the financial system and the whole thing collapses.

The Legal Corruption File

The United States is a plutocracy as it is governed by the wealthy for the wealthy. The ruling class consists of the rich and well-organized special interests who are expert at purchasing political influence. The System is corrupt per se in that its corruption is perfectly legal, institutionalized, and all-pervasive. What follows are examples of the System's legal corruption:

1) In October Rep. Beryl Anthony Jr. (D-Ark.) proposed an amendment to a bill before the House Ways and Means Committee which, he claimed, would help the small timber growers who could not afford to stay in business without tax relief. What he failed to mention was that his family, which is in the timber business, would benefit to the tune of $500,000 in deductions annually. Anthony apparently believes devoutly in our form of government -- government by the rich, for the rich.

BERYL F. ANTHONY, JR.

2) A study released by the Democratic Study Group in October of 1985 showed that the small political contributor (the donor of less than $100) is steadily disappearing from the political scene. In 1974 small donors contributed 46% of total House of Representative contributions, but only 19% in 1984. In the Senate the percentage fell from 38% to 23% over the same period. Democrats receive more from PACs and less from small donors than do Republicans at this point which is why the Democratic-controlled House Ways and Means Committee voted in October to kill the current 50% tax credit on small contributions.

See pg. 8, col. 3

24%, Citicorp up 14%, etc., etc.

The reason for this is that the big banks are awash in foreign money. The big bankers and the Federal Reserve Board which is run by big bankers have kept U.S. interest rates at least 2 percentage points higher than anywhere else in the world for the past eight years. This has caused foreigners to invest in American financial institutions in unprecented amounts. In 1984 over $200 billion in foreign capital flowed into the U.S. and this will continue to occur as long as U.S. interest rates are significantly higher than world rates. This money is invested in the large financial institutions and not the smaller ones. The big bankers have no desire to stop this flow into their coffers as long as they can lend the money out at substanially higher rates than they have to pay their depositors. The huge borrowing of the federal government to cover its deficit is a great help to bankers in this regard.

Also of great aid to the bankers is the fact that Congress subsidizes borrowing, particularly for the rich in America, by allowing interest expenses to be deducted from taxable income. Our politicians tout this deduction as a boon for middle-class homeowners as they can deduct their mortgage interest payments. But in fact it is a detriment to the middle-class and the lower classes because it is not restricted to mortgages but applies to all borrowing. Thus the wealthy are benefited to a much greater degree than the middle and lower classes. For example, if a rich man in the 50% tax bracket (the highest) borrows at a 10% interest rate the deduction means his real rate is only 5%. Whereas the real after-tax interest rate for a man in the 25% tax bracket is 7.5%, and the poor must borrow at nearly the full 10%. Large corporations greatly benefit from the interest deduction because taxes are low on the first $50,000 of profit but after that they must pay 46%. In fact, the largest corporations pay very little or no tax as Congress has blessed them with a whole host of deductions and tax credits along with the interest deduction.

So banks benefit from the enormous federal deficit and from the federal policy of subsidizing borrowing, but the big banks have been so flush with cash that in the past decade they have adopted some very strange pratices to get it lent out. For years the big banks have been sending their money salesmen all over the Third World in search of countries who would be willing to borrow money at exceptionally high rates. The corruption of foreign officials has played a large part in the "success" of these deals as "finders fees" and "agency fees" are not uncommon. But now we have an International Debt Crisis which one would think would cool the ardor of the big banks for foreign loans. Such is not the case.

Money lending to Latin America has slowed because Mexico, Argentina, Brazil, Venezuela, and Peru have threatened not to pay unless their debt is completely restructured. But the big banks have sought out and found new clients in the Third World. The latest find is Marxist Angola. Angola is not only an economic basket case, as are all the sub-Saharan Black African countries, but it is also engaged in a desperate civil war with the anti-communist UNITA movement which is funded by the U.S. government.

"Already this year 100 banks have failed..."

Nevertheless, the big banks have decided that Angola is a good credit risk.

Bankers Trust of New York has syndicated a $350 million loan to Angola for the development of a major oilfield, despite the fact that there is and has been a tremendous glut of oil in recent years and that oil analysts are predicting a substantial drop in price in the years to come. It seems that the banks will do anything to avoid lowering their interest rates.

What this means for the American economy is the destruction of its export industry, and the flourishing of foreign imports which will encourage more U.S. companies to resettle overseas so that they can export to America, as well as take advantage of cheaper foreign costs. This will make our industry even more multinational in nature and hence less nationalistic. This result is inevitable because high interest rates mean a strong dollar, and the overvalued dollar causes our exports to be too expensive to export and causes imports to sell very well in America.

The National Democratic Front believes that the economic destiny of America should not be in the hands of bankers as they are obviously more concerned with profit than with the interests of our nation. The NDF will nationalize the banks.

FBI Tips Off JDL

On November 9th, the New York Times reported in a front page article that the FBI had concluded that the Jewish Defense League was the "possible responsible group" in recent bomb attacks against an Arab American leader in California and two East Coast men with purported Nazi ties. Alex Odeh was murdered in a bombing last month around the same time as the Achille Lauro seizure. He was the leader of an Arab-American political organization, the American Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee. Seven others were injured in the terrorist bombing.

On August 15th a terror bombing took place at the home of Tscherim Soobzokov in New Jersey killing him and injuring his wife, daughter, 4 year old grandson and a neighbor. Soobzokov was a member of the Waffen S.S. in World War II. On Sept. 6th, another terrorist bombing injured a passerby at the home of Elmars Sprogis, a former Latvian police officer once accused of Nazi war crimes.

The JDL is a Jewish terrorist organization that is allowed to operate openly on American soil. Former Senator James Abourezk, an Arab American and chairman of the American Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee, claims that the Israeli secret service, the Mossad, cooperates with the JDL in committing terrorist acts in America.

What is so interesting about the FBI statement to the New York Times is that no arrests have been made. Why accuse the JDL prior to making arrests? Would not those JDL members responsible for the bombings take this cue to safely escounce themselves in Israel? It seems that Mr. Reagan and his government is up for the fight against Arab terrorism abroad, but not so eager to confront Jewish terrorism in America.

The Reality Of Black Crime

On Nov. 5, 1985 Harry Bennett testified in a Washington D.C. courtroom for three hours, describing in sickening detail how he and 10 others kidnapped, robbed and brutally murdered a 48-year-old Black mother of six. For the fun of it, they dragged her into an alley and took turns punching and kicking her before they decided to shove a pole up her rectum piercing her colon. She screamed for help until she died.

The next day in a nearby courtroom another jury watched a videotape of a Black named Paul Leon Jordan confessing to the murder of his girlfriend and the three-year old girl she was babysitting. Jordan said that the crying of the infant while he and his girlfriend were having sex caused them to argue. So he went downstairs to the kitchen and got a butcher knife which he used to slash his girlfriend to death. He then sodomized the three-year old child before he slashed her to death as well.

This is the daily reality of Black crime in America. It is almost inconceivable in its senselessness and in its brutality.

Virtually every political opinion poll taken since the 1960s shows that violent crime is the number one concern of most

"The U.S. violent crime rate is by far the highest in the Western world..."

Americans and the FBI Uniform Crime Reports demonstrate that Blacks are responsible for an extraordinary amount of this crime. The violent crime rate increased by 260% between 1960 and 1980. In 1984, for example, Blacks committed 63% of all robberies, 47% of all rapes and 48% of all murders, despite the fact that Blacks constitute only 13% of the population.

According to Patterns in Crime published in 1984 by the Macmillan Co., America's murder rate is 400% higher than that of Canada, 800% higher than that of England, and 1400% higher than that of Eastern Europe (excluding Russia). The U.S. violent crime rate is by far the highest in the Western world, and only Black countries in Africa and the Carribean have significantly higher rates. For example, Haiti's murder rate is 10 times that of the U.S., Nigeria's 8 times higher than the U.S., and Kenya's 7 times higher.

The National Democratic Front's program to separate Blacks and Whites into their own independent nations is White America's only chance to escape the barbarism that has engulfed the country. This separation alone will not solve our violent crime problem, but it will bring it within manageable proportions.

NATIONALISM IS THE ONLY PATH TO GREATNESS!

The National Democratic Front is not just a radical political party, but is a Movement with a complete philosophy of life. It is a philosophy of Service and Sacrifice -- service to our nation and Sacrifice for our people. Our ideology of Democratic Nationalism is America's only road to regeneration and great achievement. Our enemy is the philosophy of Self-Interest that now dominates American life. The perverted slogan of "Look out for number one" characterizes the outlook of most of our people -- not because they want to live this way but because the System of capitalistic pluralism gives them no choice.

The problems that beset America seem unrelated and overwhelming, but they are neither. The disease of Self-Interest is the root cause of all of these problems. Our leaders and experts appear inept, but they are not -- they are merely playing a different game than the one we think they are playing. Their's is the game of personal advancement -- not technical achievement.

"A house divided against itself cannot stand," said Lincoln. Only a united people can be great, and only a people of one race, one culture and one language can be united.

3) According to the U.S. Public Interest Research Group, Rep. Stan Parris (R-Va.) received more than $66,000 from bank political action committees over the past 4 years. Paris is a ranking member of the House Banking Committee. Their study further indicated that 265 bank PACs gave a total of $2.37 million to members of the House Banking Committee since 1981. Banking committee members received three times as much money from bank PACs than did other House members.

4) According to a study released in August 1985 by the Citizens for Tax Justice 50 of the country's largest corporations paid no federal tax on $56 billion in profits made between 1981 and 1984. Moreover, 48 of these actually received refunds from the IRS totaling $2.4 billion. Corporations are supposed to pay tax of 46% on every dollar of profit over the first $50,000 but most industries have very active PACs and lobbyists who convince our politicians that their industries need subsidization in the form of tax credits, special deductions and other loopholes. The average tax rate for corporations is in fact only 16% because of these various legal tax scams, and small corporations pay the bulk of corporate tax because they do not have the means to buy the loopholes. Of all the money collected by the IRS only about 8% comes from corporations.

In July the Treasury Department released a study which showed that 30,000 households with incomes over $250,000 per year reduced their tax rates to less than 5% through the use of various tax shelters. Their statutory rate is 50%.

President Reagan's idea of tax reform is to reduce the top rate for taxpayers from the present 50% to 35%. The top rate was 70 % when Reagan first came to office. Dan Rostenkowski, the powerful Democratic chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, agrees with Reagan that the rich need more tax relief, so it is very likely that the top tax rate for the wealthy will fall to 35% in 1986. The top rate was once 90% and will be again when the NDF comes to power.
